Sub: Rationing - Extension of Rationing Orders to Sandur.

C.No. 27355/50

To A.S.

The following States have merged with Madras State

- (1) Pudukottai.
- (2) Banganapalli.
- (3) Sandur.

The Rationing Orders have already been extended to the merged States of Pudukottai and Banganapalli as early as 1948 after extending the Central Act to the States under the Extra Provl. Jurisdiction Act 1947. Sandur was merged into Madras, only in 1949. The question of extending the central Act to the State and also others was under the consideration of the Govt. of India and they have since extended the central Act to all merged States by the Merged States(Laws) Act 1949 <sup>the question now for consideration</sup> / is what rationing orders should be extended to Sandur.

In Memo.No.39091-B/49. the Govt. ordered the introduction of informal rationing in Sandur. It is not necessary to extend the following Orders to Sandur as it is not proposed to introduce statutory rationing there.

- 1) The Madras Rationing Order, 1947
- 2) The Madras Rationing Enquiry Order, 1947,
- 3) The Madras Rationing Preparatory Measures Order, 1947.

These orders were not extended to Banganapalli also as there was no statutory rationing there. The following orders were extended both to Pudukottai and Banganapalli.

- 1) The Essential Articles Restricted Acquisition Order, 1947,
- 2) The Madras Food(Restriction on service of meals by Catering Establishments) Order 1947,
- 3) Order restricting the number of participants at marriage parties.
- 4) Order restricting the number of persons to be fed at parties other than marriage parties.

These orders may be extended to Sandur also. A draft order is put up, for approval. Legal may see before issue.
